

LAST DAY OF 1906 CHAUTAUQUA MEET

A Musical Program By Some of Our Home Talent.

CLOSING REMARKS OF MANAGER

The People All Seem Satisfied—A Fine Display of Moving Pictures by the Vinegraph—A Good Audience Was Present.

There was a fair-sized audience present Thursday afternoon, notwithstanding the fact that many were satisfied to be out of doors to enjoy the delightful weather, and the program of the entertainment at the Tabernacle was fully satisfactory.

The program opened with a piano solo by Mr. Bagby, followed with a concert on the violin by Little Miss Mc-Donagh, which was encored, to which she responded with another number.
She is a very fine performer for one so young.

During the entertainment Miss Larkin Gault sang two very sweet solos, which were highly appreciated. A very enjoyable number was a violin solo by Miss Christine Richards, accompanied by Miss Hampton on the piano.
Miss Richards plays with much expression, and her selections are of a high order and of classic music that cannot help but please those who appreciate the old masters.

Mr. Bagby was heartily received, and he took three selections to satisfy his admirers. The closing selection was sung by him.

The last entertainment of the Chautauqua, Thursday evening, was attended by an enthusiastic audience, and the moving pictures were enjoyed, as was manifest by the applause.

During a short intermission Dr.
Grove made a few remarks and thanked the people for their loyalty to the Bible Conference and the Chautauqua.
He said the collection taken in one evening at the Bible Conference had more than paid expenses, and that the Chautauqua had come out ahead.
Everything would be done to make each year each year, and when he spoke of the new hotel and other improvements, many present expressed the sentiment that Dr. Clarence B.
Grove was all right.

He has won many friends in this city and he deserves the best wishes of all.

NEW SOIL MAP.

Government Has Issued Fine Map of Gainesville and Vicinity.

A few days ago Postmaster Geo. J.
Arnold, through the courtesy of the Department of Agriculture of the United States Government, received a limited number of what is termed a "soil map" of Gainesville and vicinity.

These maps are printed at a great expense to the government, and are very valuable. They are engraved and colored from a geological survey, illustrating the various sands and soils of the territory by different colored backgrounds.

The instructions from the Department of Agriculture to Postmaster Arnold were to distribute the maps with promotion, only giving them to those whom he believed they would benefit; but the trouble arose in the fact that there was not a sufficient number furnished, and the genial postmaster has been besieged with requests by those who really need them, and it is hoped that Judge Arnold will make another requisition.

GROVE PARK.

An Interesting Lot of News From This Busy Little Town.

Our little town is on a boom. Everything in the business line progressing fine and everyone busy doing something.

Jacksonville, but formerly lived at Grove Park, was a welcome visitor at our little town a short while Friday afternoon. He was on his way to Rochelle to attend the "drams."

Mrs. T. L. Johnson has a millinery store which will be such a help to our town. Mrs. Johnson has just returned

FACE AND ARMS ALL BROKEN OUT

Troubled Almost a Year—Physicians Did No Good—Complexion Now Perfect and Skin Soft, White and Velvety. Tennessee Lady

"HIGHLY RECOMMENDS CUTICURA SOAP"

"I had been troubled with a breaking out on my face and arms for almost a year and had the services of several physicians, but they didn't seem to do any good. Some time ago one of my friends recommended Cuticura to me.
I secured some, and after using it several months I was completely cured.
I can highly recommend Cuticura Soap as being the very best complexion soap made. It creates a perfect complexion, leaving the skin soft, white, and velvety. I now use Cuticura Soap all the time and recommend its use to my friends." Maud Leggins, R. F. D. No. 1,
Aug. 1, 1905. Sylvia, Tenn.

ANOTHER CURE

"I have used the Cuticura Medicinal Toilet Soap for more than a year, and for cleansing, beautifying, and purifying the skin, it cannot be excelled. I have been trying for a long time to get something to take the pimples off my face, and since using Cuticura Soap I find that it is the very thing for diseases of the skin." G. W. King, Oct. 16, 1905. Cadiz, Ky.

STILL ANOTHER CURE

"I beg to say that I had a great deal of dandruff and after using many so-called cures, I started to use Cuticura Soap and am now no longer troubled with dandruff." Ida Maier, 1226 Seltzer St., Oct. 16, 1905. Philadelphia, Pa.

Capell made a flying trip to Hawthorn Monday afternoon.

Mrs. R. E. Johnson and Mrs. E. L.
Johnson of Orange Lane were visiting Mrs. S. F. Waite Wednesday.

The turpentine still of Messrs. Phifer & Waite is near completion.

We have just organized a good Sunday school here and all seem very much interested. Everyone is invited to attend. Elliott Waite of Hawthorn superintends the school for us.

Elliott Waite and Miss Lizzie Johnson were welcome visitors to our little burg Sunday.

Miss Julia Brown of Magnesia was calling in our town Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Phifer of Gainesville was in our town a day or two this week. He was accompanied by his little daughter, Acenatha.

Miss Jennie Crane and Mrs. Lynch attended services at the Catholic church in Hawthorn Sunday.

Mrs. Bell, after visiting in St. Augustine and Palatka for several days, returned home Tuesday. She reports a good time.

Everything is beautiful around the "Park" now. The orange trees, peach trees and pear trees are all in full bloom, and the beautiful spreading oaks have put on their spring growth.

J. J. Lindsey was on the sick list Sunday.

Little Miss Bernice Bryan of Ocala is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. S.
F. Waite.

Mrs. T. J. Peacock spent a few days visiting her mother at Rochelle last week.

BETEL NUT CHEWING.

It is the National Diversion of the Siamese People.

Betel nut chewing is the national diversion of the Siamese. Every one from high to low is addicted to the habit, and preparation of the quid for those too poor to own ingredients and boxes is in every town quite a business of itself. In the smallest settlements one sees peddlers squatting before their trays of little boxes holding lime and seeds of tobacco and packages of arrah, or green betel leaves.
The betel tree is among the most common in Siam, sending up a trunk sometimes full sixty feet, always, like the coconut, limbless except for its bush of a top, where, again like the coconut, the nuts grow in closely attached bunches, to harden and ripen before gathered.

The cardamom seed, or clove, is an extra of the well to do and especially of the women. The common habit among men of the country is to add a pinch of tobacco after first rubbing it over their gums. The bright red saliva from chewing is, in the town house, carefully deposited in a handsome silver receptacle. In the up country house sits between the open bamboo flooring obviate the necessity for such niceties. But always on formal occasion, even in the jungle edge, the betel nut chewer carries his box for the freely flowing juice that stains the teeth a deep red, which among the better class with care and attention becomes a highly polished black.

And this is true even of Siam's most enlightened classes, whom contact with the outside world appears not to win from the betel nut and discolored teeth.
In Bangkok I talked with one of royal blood and his wife, both of whom had lived several years in England, yet the teeth of each were black as ebony, and the woman frankly expressed her disgust at the white teeth of foreigners.
Dogs and other four footed animals, she declared, have white teeth. Blessed is contentment!—Outing.

PYTHONS AS PETS.

According to Dr. Mann, They Are Perfectly Harmless.

Dr. Mann, an enthusiastic lover of snakes, contributes to a recent English volume a letter which goes to show that the larger kinds of these creatures may have far more character and emotion than they are generally credited with.

"My present board," he writes, "always sleeps in my bed around my feet.
He is perfectly clean, he still and very seldom disturbs me. Occasionally he crawls to my face to lick it. I frequently take a python to bed, but at present she is timid, and if she cannot find my feet crawling out of the bed and curls herself on the floor.

"I do not myself believe that any python or boa is savage, but they are dreadfully timid, especially from the ill treatment they receive when first caught and the misery and terror they endure on the voyage. There is another thing. They have no eyelids and on being suddenly uncovered and dragged forth to the light suffer from the glare very acutely. It is best, therefore, to hide their heads in your hand or under your coat.

"Handle them often and give them water, pressing their heads gently into it. I feel my boss frequently from my hand, but the last time I offered a python a guinea pig the prey escaped, and the python took in the whole of my hand instead. He soon discovered his mistake and was greatly distressed, rubbed his head against my hand and seemed to fear some sort of punishment.

"Since that time I have had great difficulty in persuading him to eat unless I nurse him or take him to bed, when he will lie the whole night with his head in my hand."

Wiser Counsel.

"What's that sign you're making there?" asked the grocer.

"Fresh eggs," replied the new clerk.

"Make it 'Fresh laid eggs.'" "Why—er—everybody knows the eggs were fresh when they were laid."
"Exactly, and that's all that it's safe for us to say about them."—Philadelphia Press.

Sunday Work.

"Little boy," said the stern clergyman, "you should not be working on Sunday. What would your father say?"

"Why, pa's working too!"
"What is he doing?"
"Playin' the organ in yer church choir."—New York Press.
